Christmas Spirit Unites Nations

WHEN that jovial gent with holly-bright cheeks and a slow-white beard cracks his whip and streaks across the skies, all nations of the world that celebrate the Yule will find themselves gloriously united by the spirit of Christmas.

In France, for example, Santa is known as Le Pere Noel and accompanied by Father Whipper, a stern gray-beard who takes the switch to unruly children. But Santa's wife, a witch-like woman called "Belfana," does the stockingstuffing in Italy. This allows Santa more time to ride his white horse through the streets of Holland, where he is known as St. Nicholas. Dutch children attract his attention by placing shoes on their doorsteps. Lighted candles are placed in the windows of homes in Ireland for the children believe the Christ Child may be in search of a lodging place.

In Spain, and Denmark, respectively, the children leave out straw for Santa's reindeer and bowls of rice for the invisible Danish gnomes that bring their gifts. Father Christmas takes care of the gift delivering in Sweden but only after the children have sung carols for him. Polish youngsters, however, receive their gifts in church while Hungary's small set are reminded of their conduct by finding either sugar or switches in their shoes.

In addition to Santa's gifts, Greek children enjoy roast pig on the Yule day, as do many in England, where Father Christmas, like our own Santa, sails through space on a sleigh and drops down chimneys, bestowing a peace and love upon the hearth that may someday unite the whole world in the blessed spirit of giving.

In the short time since it was presented, thousands of people have flocked to see the great new Silver Anniversary Pontiac —few cars have ever had a reception to equal this. Most people came to admire, which is natural enough. But a great many people do more than admire, they start figuring—they begin to compare this wonderfully beautiful and desirable car with the modest price tag it bears. No car, at any price, offers more for every new car dollar you invest than a great new Pontiac! Drop in any time and look at the car—then look at the price—you'll be doubly sure that dollar for dollar, you can't beat a Pontiac!

Everywhere, among good people, there exists a longing to make our world tranquil and prosperous -- a desire for man to unite for peace, good will and understanding. For from good will comes forbearance and from understanding, a better way of life.

And what better time than Christmas for every man to renew the realization that all our good human relationships - yes, even our business relationships, are based upon our faith in God and our fellow man. Only through this ith can we assure the continuance of freedom without fear - tolerance without tyranny - democracy and lasting peace.
